Flickr theme config (builder 2.0)

This theme config makes Confluence look similar to the popular photo-sharing site, Flickr. See it in action $\ensuremath{\scriptscriptstyle >}$

Disclaimer

This theme config was developed merely as a quick test during the early development stages of Builder 2.0 to ensure that certain design options were working as expected. We've not used it in a live environment so it's possible that some links to common functions are not present.

Prerequisites

You'll need to install the following plugins before you can use this theme config:

- Confluence 2.1 or above
- Theme Builder 2.0.x or above
- Content Formatting Macros plugin (latest version)
- Page Information Plugin (latest version)
- Rate Plugin (latest version)

Note: If you don't want a rating panel to appear on all pages, you can remove the wiki notation in the theme config in which case you won't need the Rate Plugin.

- 1. Create a new space, and select the Theme Builder theme.

Serving Suggestions

You can get a more authentic look by installing the Conflickr plugin which allows you to display Flickr photo sets within Confluence.
