Default Layouts Tab

This tab is accessed from Theme Administration in Theme Builder 3.0 and above.

The screenshot shows the 'Default Layouts' tab in the Theme Builder interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs: 'Backup', 'Manage Spaces', 'Default Layouts' (active), 'Global Permissions', and 'Dashboard'. On the left, a 'Choose layout...' sidebar lists available layouts: 'DEFAULT' (selected), 'FACULTYARTS', 'ENGLISH', 'HISTORY', 'PHILOSOPHY', 'FACULTYSCIENCE', 'COMPSCI', and 'MATHS'. The main area is divided into two sections: 'Global Default Layout' and 'Personal Default Layout'. Each section displays the 'Current default' as 'DEFAULT', a 'Preview >' button, and fields for 'Name' and 'Description', all set to 'Default layout'. Below these fields is a 'Lock Layout' checkbox and a 'Use Selected Layout' button. To the right, the 'Selected Layout Preview' shows a visual representation of the 'DEFAULT' layout, including sections for Header, Menu, Navigation, Title, Content, Footnotes, and Footer, with a '(Page)' indicator at the bottom. The footer of the preview area reads 'Adaptavist Theme Builder Powered by Atlassian Confluence'.

Choose Layout

To select an alternative default layout, select a layout from the list of layouts in the left-hand side of the interface.

Layout Preview

Press the preview button to get a preview of the selected layout.

Global Default Layout

To assign the layout that you have selected and previewed as the global default layout, press the "use selected layout button".

Ticking the lock layout button does just as it suggests. Locks the layout in place.

 Locking the layout will not prevent the possibility of deleting it via the Manage Layouts interface.

Personal Default Layout

Use this to select a layout, preview it and assign it as the default layout for personal spaces in your Confluence wiki.
